

Editorial and Local.

Both times and business should soon brighten up.

The rag-pickers of Paris are said to gather up ten thousand dollars worth of rags nightly.

Owners of mining properties who have not done so, should take steps to procure patents. Their property will be safer and more valuable.

The day has passed when personal abuse will win a political victory. And greatly to the credit of the intelligence of our people is it, that such is the case.

Mr. Catron, it is stated, has all of the deeds to Cerrillos property sold by him, now properly signed by Mr. Elkins. This was done according to promise of Mr. Catron and in response to the request of people here who had purchased lots, the proper record of whose transfer was destroyed, along with Mr. Catron's power of attorney from Elkins, at the fire in Santa Fe two years ago, in which his great law library was burned.

The Board of Co. commissioners have directed that the county collector make a detailed report to them on the tenth of each month, of money collected from all sources and turned over to the treasurer. That officer is also requested to get after unpaid licenses, and to collect the same by process of law. The district attorney was also instructed to proceed against ex-Sheriff Frank Chavez and his bondsmen, to effect if possible a settlement of his shortage.

Santa Fe has organized its commercial club, the following citizens and business men of the city subscribing to memberships at the initial meeting: L. Spiegelberg, R. J. Palen, A. Seligman, M. Frost, H. Lindheim, L. A. Hughes, R. E. Twitchell, J. H. Crist, J. H. Sloan, A. M. Grunfeld, E. L. Bartlett, D. P. Burnham, S. Weddeleg, F. T. Webber, T. F. Webber, Mr. Judkins, A. T. Gregg, J. H. Knaebel, T. P. Gable, Sol. Spiegelburg, G. W. Knaebel, H. B. Cartwright, J. D. Allen, Gov. Prince, Hon. C. H. Gilderleeve, Hon. E. A. Fiske, M. Eldodt, Mayor Thornton, J. D. Proudfoot, Hon. A. Staab and J. D. Hughes. The capital stock has been placed at $25,000—one thousand shares at $25 each. The subscription to two shares of stock is a necessary qualification to membership.

While in Santa Fe Monday the Rustler man visited that well known institution, the St. Vincent sanitarium, for the first time—a fact which causes a little blush of shame to mantle his downy cheek—for the good work of the Sisters and the beauty of the premises, should claim the interest of everybody. Sister Victoria kindly took the editor in charge and guided him through the rooms in the main building and hospital proper, all nicely arranged and clean in every item of furniture; then through the Orphanry, where at present sixty children are protected from the world; clothed, fed, educated, and given all the advantages—and many of them more—than they would possibly have had at home. Some day we will write more of a history of this popular institution and have more to say of its busy managers, even if they do say they are afraid of newspaper men. Doubtless this has been caused by the desperately wicked example of the Santa Fe newspaper men. But all else aside, our people, and especially the miners of south Santa Fe county, should assist these good sisters—and their works prove them good—to keep up their home. A dollar per month is not a large assessment, and when one is hurt or sick, the sanitarium is the first place and best place to go, and often the patient has not a cent with which to pay for treatment. They are not beggars and this is gratuitous; but they should have help, they need it, they deserve it.

Important County Business.

The board of county commissioners, which has been in session most of this week at Santa Fe, has transacted considerable important business. In determining to refund the entire bonded indebtedness of the county, the board has taken what this paper has always proclaimed as the proper initial step toward getting the county on a promising financial basis. The interest is less, ruinous litigation—such as in time would bankrupt either individuals or incorporations—is stopped, and the stigma of attempted repudiation is wiped from the county's credit. A start has been made, and made at the bottom, where it had to be made—for ring steals and robbery, coupled with grossest mismanagement of county affairs, had dragged the credit of our little commonwealth clear through the mire, down to bed-rock. For the first time in years there is the possible glimmering of light ahead, caused by one respectable stroke of financial engineering. It now remains for not only this board but succeeding boards to continue the work as the present one is doing, and before the thirty years in which the bonds mature elapse, Santa Fe county's credit can be so good that she need "owe no man a dollar."
